Dedication by Created Alive

Are you getting the impression that you beckon my attention, baby?

Take a look in my direction
I'm hooked on your affection, lady

attention, baby?

Take a look in my direction
I'm hooked on your affection, lady

Yeah, of course you're a sensation
You're my source of inspiration, baby
You're not the cause for this frustration
But I know you've got the remedy

Lady
Be my baby
Drive me crazy
Drive me wild

Lady
Be my baby
Drive me crazy
Drive me home

Lady
Be my baby
Drive me crazy
Drive me wild

Like any other brother I'm just hoping for a moment complete

Yeah, like any other brother I hope ya gonna give it to me

Like any other brother I'm just hoping for a moment
complete

Yeah, like any other brother I hope ya gonna give it
to me

Like any other brother I'm hoping for a moment
complete

Yeah, like any other brother I hope ya gonna give it
to me

Like any other brother I'm hoping for a moment
complete

Yeah, like any other brother I hope ya gonna give it
to me

My Dire Opportunity of Life by Created Alive

As time unwinds on my dire opportunity of life and displaces my hope
I try to find the safer place to play with fire inside to replace the smoke

Smile
In time
You'll touch up any mislaid pride
So hold your head up high
Allow yourself to shine
It'll all be over
All your troubles taken

No matter what I've done I will return to be somebody told me
To be the highlight of my self-esteem
No matter what I've been through I will pick you up again
And I will hold myself responsible to me

Although I can't remember who I am
I keep forgetting that proof
In all I'd ever do I held to truth

So as time unwinds on my dire opportunity of life
and displaces my hope
I try to find the safer place to play with fire inside
to replace the smoke

Smile
In time
You'll touch up any mislaid pride
So hold your head up high
Allow yourself to shine
It'll all be over
All your troubles taken

No matter what I've done I will return to be somebody, they told me
To be the highlight of my self-esteem
No matter what I've been through I will pick you up again
And I will hold myself responsible to thee

Although I can't remember who I am
I keep forgetting that proof
In all I'd ever do I held to truth

So as time unwinds on my dire opportunity of life and displaces my hope
I try to find the safer place to play with fire inside to replace the smoke

The Poem She wrote by Created Alive

Don't want to kid myself tonight
Don't want a shooting star to fall out of the sky
Don't need a wishing well to sell me a lie
Can't ask a pretty bird to lay down by my side

All I need is this dream in me
All I need is the chance to believe
All I need is this dream, she said
All I need is you my friend

Don't want to kick myself tonight
Don't want a shooting star to fall out of the night-sky
Don't need a wishing well to sell me a lie
All I need is your love in my life

All I need is this dream, she said
All I need is you my friend
All I need is this dream in me
All I need is the chance to believe
The chance to be me
The chance to be free

And this is the poem she wrote me

Invite a rainbow to come into view
To light your room, to dry your wounds
So you may never fear a glistening night
The blushing moon or a rushing tide

Ignite a firefly for Freedom to see He'll bring you your wings then cut you free
And if you'll fly for Him He'll fall by your side
Be with you tonight
He'll be with you tonight
He'll be with you tonight

All I need is this dream, she said
All I need is you my friend
All I need is this dream in me
All I need is the chance to believe
The chance to be me
The chance to be free

And this is the poem she wrote me

Muscle, Bone & Sinew (Mary-Lee)

by Created Alive

Dress me up in a bright shade of pretty pink

Put paint upon my fingertips

Use that nice flavour red

Dance with me in your arms tonight

Then lay me down to bed

Do you hear me call from within you?

My muscle, bone, and sinew

A fire inside burns for life

Gently, gently down your stream

Mary-Lee, we rise and fall

For life is but a dream

walk with me down to the beachside

I'm rushing for the high-tide

I'm running for the daylight

Do you feel the tug on your hand?

All the love you had to give me

All buried in sand

Gently, gently down your stream
Mary-Lee, we rise and fall
For life is but a dream

Do you hear me call from within you?
My muscle, bone, and sinew
A fire inside burns for life

Gently, gently down your stream
Mary-Lee, we rise and fall
For life is but a dream

In Your Mind by Created Alive

Do you dream of me?
I've been dreaming about you
As these days drift by you I sit in the back of your mind
Could you remember me?
I endeavor to remember you
The smile on your face when you saw me for the first time

I am lost to you
You, you're lost to me
But are you holding on like me?

How long did you yearn for me?
Did you want to let me go?
And do you sit up at nighttime and wish you had me to hold?
will you wait for me?
Optimistic I'll come home
As these days disagree we converge on that backseat of hope

I am lost to you
You, you're lost to me
But are you holding on like me?

My heart, it's breaking
May you shape me
You'll serrate me with your love
You'll make me sharp
You'll make me strong enough to carry on
I'll cut through life
There's life at home
I'll cut through life
I'm not alone

I am lost to you
You, you're lost to me
But are you holding on like me?

Not Your Fault by Created Alive

So how does it feel to feel a sense or that taste of anything surreal?

And where does our timing go?
way down to this chord below
It slips through the cracks within You gotta break that spirit in

You're awe I may never know
I'll never love when I cannot grow
You're all in time but then
You'll somehow break my heart again

Now I know it's not your fault
No, it's not at all

And why do our feelings lie?
way down in this place inside
They slip through the cracks within
So where are you when you're with them?

You're awe I may never know
I'll never love when I cannot grow
You're all in time but then
You'll somehow break my heart again

Now I know it's not your fault
No, it's not at all
So I see you from afar
For that is what you are

You're awe-enlightened then
And you'll wait for the sun to, to rise again we've all mysteries to find
But how can you seek them when you're so blind?

Now I know it's not your fault
No, it's not at all
So I seek you from afar
For that is what you are

Knight of The Night Scene by Created Alive

In fantasy, anything is possible if you will try Fancy, it's plausible to see that in life

So step inside and justify it
You're in my dreams now
The prelude's over
Hold on tight, don't try to fight it
If the suspense can kill you
Then our scene, it's overdue

Stay tonight for the knight of the night-scene
Dim the lights on the setting of my dream
Play your part in the heart of the action
Now you're the star and you're the feature attraction of my dream, baby

Stay tonight for the knight of the night-scene
Dim the lights on the setting of my dream
Play your part in the heart of the action
You're the star and you're the feature attraction of my dream, baby

Fortuity by Created Alive

I woke this morning with a dream in my head
About a future sewn by needle and thread
I poured my sweat and blood out over my sleeve
I poured my heart out over this dream

And I wrote the future
I set it in my mind
And I drew a card
Took a chance on the fate of my life

[I spoke my calling as I fell to my knees
I broke down bawling, there were tears at my feet
I bought becoming in that moment divine
It cost me nothing but the love in my eye]

And I wrote the future
I set it in my mind
And I drew a card
Took a chance on the fate of my life

The vast Beyond by Created Alive

Set your sights high
Let your light shine
Cast your line upon the tide
And keep your eyes upon the night

For we've made it through this far
Let's celebrate the past
It's time we raise our glasses high
The future's in our grasp

Set your sights high
Let your light shine
Cast your line upon the tide
And keep your eyes upon the prize

For we've made it through this far
Let's celebrate the past
It's time we raise our, our glasses high
The future's in our grasp

we may make it to the stars
Populate the vast beyond
we'll light the skies with art
High above the firmament

So set your sights high
Let your light shine
Cast your line upon the tide
And keep your eyes upon the light

we may make it to the stars
Populate the vast beyond
we'll light the skies with art
High above the firmament

But if the universe decays
If she collapses from her growing pains
All life could slip away
Eternity remain

If the universe decays
If she collapses from her growing pains
All life could slip away
Eternity remain
All life could slip away
Eternity remain
All life could slip away
Eternity remain
All life could slip away
Eternity remain
